

Student CEIAG Entitlement Plan

Inscape House staff regularly consult with students regarding CEIAG entitlement reflecting the school's vision, philosophy and beliefs are that:

- People with autism can continue to develop skills and strategies that enable them to participate as independent, valued citizens enjoying equal rights and opportunities.
- An eclectic, flexible approach using detailed personal resources is necessary to support the development of individual skills.
- Through working alongside people with autism, developing 'power with' relationships, effective strategies can be developed that enable our young people to contribute to and be consulted on all aspects of their lives.
- Consultation through listening to people who use the service and their representatives is key to effective, evolving practice.

This ensures that the Student Voice plays an intrinsic role in the development of the Careers and Employability offer at Inscape House School and that it is relevant and personalised to all students.

Staff facilitate the development of the student's requests by offering and further developing:

Opportunities for:

- supported internships
- personalised work placements
- attendance at local further education colleges and main stream schools
- enrichment activities
- developing independence

Students appreciate and want to continue having:

- the chance to take risks in a safe environment
  - the opportunities to travel locally, nationally and internationally
  - a personalised approach to learning
  - the opportunity to learn to cope in new situations
- And
- working together and helping each other

The CEIAG offer is under constant review and recent innovations include:

- The creation of a Family Information and Guidance Centre where students and parent/carers will have access to information on line through nationally recognised online programmes and information leaflets.

- Online careers and employability programmes that can be accessed by staff, students and parents/carers.
